ARL to Recognize Hill's Pet Nutrition with Animal Advocate Award

Award winners exemplify compassion and commitment to advance ARL's mission

During its upcoming Paws to Celebrate event its historic Dedham Campus, the Animal Rescue League of Boston (ARL) will recognize Hill's Pet Nutrition, for the company's commitment to improving the health and wellbeing for animals not only in ARL's Animal Care and Adoption Centers, but throughout the communities ARL serves.

ARL's Animal Advocate Award honors distinguished philanthropists and compassionate organizations who have made outstanding contributions to ARL and actively advance the well-being of animals in our community.

ARL is thrilled to recognize Hill's Pet Nutrition for their extraordinary generosity and achievements in improving the health and wellbeing of animals. They not only help meet the unique nutritional needs of the animals in our Animal Care & Adoption Centers, they also transform the lives of pets in our community by supporting our pet food pantry and pet adoption. They are committed to good and their impact extends across the globe!

"We are fortunate to have Hill's as a partner and supporter. They do so much for animals and the field of animal welfare, and often do not get the recognition they deserve," stated ARL President and CEO Dr. Edward Schettino. "We are honored to present Hill's with our Animal Advocate Award."

ARL will present a representative of Hill's Pet Nutrition with the award on Sunday, October 20, during its annual Paws to Celebrate event at ARL's Dedham Campus, which is a gathering of like-minded ARL supporters to celebrate their contributions and see first-hand how their support and involvement is helping animals in need, and the people who care for them.
